VOLUME 7, ISSUE 1

JANUARY / FEBRUARY

My New Year's Resolution...

Have you ever considered how much of your life is spent on a screen? I recently did math, and in a given week, I will spend 10 hours typing, 2 hours using email and my electronic calendar, 2 hours in video calls, 4 hours reading for work or catching up on the news, and at least 6 hours watching TV or playing video games. In other words, I spend one day of my life, every week, that's fifty-two days a year working, communicating, and relaxing in front of a screen. If you were to conduct a similar audit, what would you find?

I am not an opponent of technology; without screens, Joel would only see his grandparents a few times a year, my weekly prayer and accountability group would not have a place to meet, and poor Jessica would have to decipher my handwriting for every church bulletin. But as St. Augustine explains in his famous treatise "On Christian Teaching", all created things exist to be employed for the knowledge and glory of God, not to become ends unto themselves.

But technology, especially our phones and televisions, has a way of becoming all-consuming, in part because they were designed to dominate our attention. And lately, I keep running into folks who are trying to implement some form of intentional "disconnecting", whether it is parents trying to protect their children, professionals trying to become more productive, or retired folks who just want to be more active and less anxious.

I think what these people are observing is the same principle that the Psalmist observed when he warned Israel about orienting their lives around idols made by humans. He writes, "Their Idols are silver and gold, made by human hands. They have mouths but cannot speak, eyes but cannot see. They have ears but cannot hear, nose but cannot smell. They have hands but cannot feel, feet but cannot walk, nor can they utter a sound with their throats. Those who make them will be like them, and so will all who trust in them." In other words, we become like the things we give our attention and our devotion to.

So, this year, I hope to do a little more writing and a little less typing, to send a few more cards and a few less emails, and to focus on making my connections in person rather than online whenever I can. Why? Not because these tools are bad, but because I find that too much of them makes me a little bit more like a robot and less like the person God has created me to be.

Yours In Christ, Pastor Ben

Operation Christmas Child

What an incredible year!!

Thank you to everyone who gave to Operation Christmas Child this year.

Thanks to your generosity and joyful hearts, we exceeded our goal once again—packing 59 shoeboxes and raising $455 to support shipping, processing, and the Greatest Journey Discipleship Program for children receiving these gifts.

Each box brings hope, joy, and the love of Jesus to kids around the world. Thank you for being the hands and feet of Christ and helping us share His light far and wide.

Let's start getting ready for next year...contact Jessica Baker at the church office for more information about Operation Christmas Child and for a guide to year-round Operation Christmas Child shoebox shopping.

It's all about Jesus!

Pastor's Library

What I am Reading...

My Utmost for His Highest, Oswald Chambers: This is my 2nd time through this all-time classic devotional. Chambers challenges me to follow Jesus more closely each day.

Checkpoint Charlie, Iain MacGregor: Since the Berlin Wall came down before I was born, I have some catching up to do on this important place in modern history.

Anchor Bible Revelation, Craig Koester: Everything I am looking for in a detailed commentary: historically rooted, pastorally sensitive, and theologically astute. A key source for Tuesday Bible Study.

What I am Listening to...

Theology Project: A few months ago I recommended Dr. O'Reilly's sermons. This is a combination of his research and interviews with leading Methodist scholars.

The Last Invention: A long-form investigation of the history and future of Artificial Intelligence and what it may mean for us.

Faith of My Father: Stephanie Gretzinger soulfully revives the classic praise choruses I grew up singing at summer camp.

BELLEVUE METHODIST CHURCH

Epiphany, Mt 2:1-12

Three wise men were searching for Jesus. They traveled from very far away to meet him. They followed a star and finally found him in Bethlehem. They adored him and gave him special gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. What gift would you like to give to Jesus this year?
